Academic Writing and Publishing 2008-04-22 the white man leaning with both arms over the roof of the little house in the stern of the boat said to the steersman we will pass the night in arsat s clearing it is late the malay only grunted and went on looking fixedly at the river the white man rested his chin on his crossed arms and gazed at the wake of the boat at the end of the straight avenue of forests cut by the intense glitter of the river the sun appeared unclouded and dazzling poised low over the water that shone smoothly like a band of metal the forests sombre and dull stood motionless and silent on each side of the broad stream at the foot of big towering trees trunkless nipa palms rose from the mud of the bank in bunches of leaves enormous and heavy that hung unstirring over the brown swirl of eddies in the stillness of the air every tree every leaf every bough every tendril of creeper and every petal of minute blossoms seemed to have been bewitched into an immobility perfect and final nothing moved on the river but the eight paddles that rose flashing regularly dipped together with a single splash while the steersman swept right and left with a periodic and sudden flourish of his blade describing a glinting semicircle above his head the churned up water frothed alongside with a confused murmur and the white man s canoe advancing upstream in the short lived disturbance of its own making seemed to enter the portals of a land from which the very memory of motion had forever departed
