schmeling's experiences following Kristallnacht publishers weekly called it a masterful historical novel in a starred review. Karl Stern has never thought of himself as a Jew after all he's never even been in a synagogue but the bullies at his school in Nazi era Berlin don't care that Karl's family doesn't practice religion demoralized by their attacks against a heritage he doesn't accept as his own. Karl longs to prove his worth then Max Schmeling, champion boxer and German hero, makes a deal with Karl's father to give Karl boxing lessons. A skilled cartoonist, Karl has never had an interest in boxing but now it seems like the perfect chance to reinvent himself but when Nazi violence against Jews escalates, Karl must take on a new role: family protector. And as Max's fame forces him to associate with Nazi elites, Karl begins to wonder where his hero's sympathies truly lie. Can Karl balance his boxing dreams with his obligation to keep his family out of harm's way? Includes an author's note and sources page detailing the factual inspirations behind the novel.

If what you see is what you get, Jules is in serious trouble. The suspenseful first in a series from the New York Times bestselling author of the Wake Trilogy, Jules lives with her family above their restaurant, which means she smells like pizza most of the time and drives their double meatball-shaped food truck to school. It's not a recipe for popularity, but she can handle that. What she can't handle is the recurring vision that haunts her over and over: Jules sees a careening truck hit a building and explode, and nine body bags in the snow. The vision is everywhere on billboards, television screens, windows, and she's the only one who sees it. And the more she sees it, the more she sees the vision is giving her clues, and soon Jules knows what she has to do because now she can see the face in one of the body bags, and it's someone she knows, someone she has been in love with for as long as she can remember. In this riveting start to a gripping series from New York Times bestselling author Lisa McMann, Jules has to act, and act fast, to keep her vision from becoming reality.

A YA romance with a sparkling commercial voice and a dash of science that explores a relationship over six years. The moment Spencer meets Hope the summer before seventh grade, it's something at first sight. The pair become fast friends, climbing trees and planning world travels after years of being outshone by his older brother and teased because of his Tourette syndrome. Spencer finally feels like he belongs, but as Hope and Spencer get older and life gets messier, the clear label of friend gets messier too through sibling feuds and family tragedies, new relationships, and broken hearts. The two grow together and apart, and Spencer, an aspiring scientist, tries to map it all out using his trusty system of taxonomy. He wants to identify and classify their relationship, but in the end, he finds that life doesn't always fit into easy-to-manage boxes, and it's this messy complexity that makes life so rich and beautiful.
