the credal affirmation he descended to the dead has attracted a plethora of views over the centuries and many christians today struggle to explain the meaning of these words this book explores various interpretations of the doctrine of christ s descent to the dead both within particular historical contexts and within contemporary theology laufer argues that the descensus clause christ s descent is integral to christian faith specifically to the doctrine of the incarnation if we are to affirm that in christ god became truly human then that affirmation must include his sharing in the state of being dead that is the ultimate consequence of being human laufer concludes that since the son has experienced genuine human death and the separation from god which is the essence of hell there is no longer any human condition from which god is absent either in this life or in eternity christ s descent means that he is truly hell s destruction drawing on a treasure trove of writings from the western theological tradition including luther calvin maurice balthasar moltmann and others and attending to historical theological exegetical philosophical and pastoral issues this book explores an often ignored doctrine which lies at the core of christian life death and faith

a new collection from glyn maxwell one of the great poetic stylists of the era and one of its leading dramatic voices is always a cause for celebration here there are squibs and satires lyrics and songs poems written to family members and in memory of loved ones a series of poems written by an artificial intelligence that will thrill and disturb in equal measure and a chance for the blank page to finally speak for itself but how the hell are you is in its way also a quietly political book maxwell regards poetry as truth telling and these poems in their intimate unsparing accounts and clear eyed reckonings recoil from the lies and fake news of the age to actually tell it like it is how the hell are you shows a remarkable imagination and mind working at full tilt and is the most powerful expression of maxwell s talent to date man and superman by george bernard shaw was written in 1903 as a four act drama responding to those who had questioned shaw as to why he had never written a play based on the don juan theme man and superman opened at the royal court theatre in london on 23 may 1905 without the performance of the 3rd act a part of the act don juan in hell act 3 scene 2 was performed when the drama was staged on june 4 1907 at the royal court the play was not produced in its entirety until 1915 by the travelling repertory company at the lyceum theatre edinburgh the long third act of the play is often cut don juan in hell consists of a philosophical debate between don juan played by the same actor who plays jack tanner and the devil with doña ana ann and the statue of don gonzalo ana s father roebuck ramsden an aged acquaintance of tanner s and ann s guardian looking on don juan in hell is often performed separately as a play in its own right most famously in the 50 s in a concert version with charles boyer as don juan charles laughton as the devil cedric hardwicke as the commander and agnes moorehead as doña ana this version was also released as a spoken word album on lp but has yet to appear on cd however the complete performance recording is now available at various sites on the internet although man and superman can be performed as a light comedy of manners shaw intended the drama to be something much deeper as suggested by the title this title comes from friedrich nietzsche s philosophical ideas about the Übermensch superman the plot centers on john tanner author of the revolutionist s handbook and pocket companion which is published with the play as a 58 page appendix tanner is a confirmed bachelor despite the pursuits of ann whitefield and her persistent efforts to make him marry her ann is referred to as the life force and represents shaw s view that in every culture it is the women who force the men to marry them rather than the men who take the initiative
