this practical text draws together the various strands of legislation relating to the sale and supply of goods together with a background to the law of contract the text also includes all relevant statutes and is creating a comprehensive one volume guide to the law there is a great interaction between the sale and supply of goods and services and consumer credit important recent cases such as dimond v lovell have led to a dramatic increase in litigation in this area. blackstone s sale and supply of goods and services provides a practical and comprehensive guide to the consumer credit act 1974 and includes up to date coverage of credit hire agreements while the text provides in depth analysis the focus is strictly on the practitioner the law is explained unambiguously and presented so as to give clear answers to the problems that present themselves in day to day practice. model pleadings and contracts are also provided to guide the practitioner in the modern day there is a huge interaction between the blackstone s sale and supply of goods and services will be indispensable for practitioners specialising in the fields of commercial and consumer law it will also be of considerable interest to students on the lpc and bvc courses
